6. Officially recognised ways of acquiring the qualification

Training for the VET Certificate: Hotel Housekeeping Employee lasts 2 years. Training content is usually distributed across two different learning locations: classroom instruction at a vocational school and apprenticeship training at a host company. However, depending on the VET programme, learners will also attend branch courses at a branch training centre. Professional competences required for the given occupation are decided by the sponsor of the VET programme.

- Host companies provide learners with practical skills associated with the occupation. Learners usually work an average of 4 day(s) per week.
- Vocational schools provide classroom instruction in vocational subjects and subjects falling under the category of language, communication and society (LCS). Learners usually attend classes an average of 1 day(s) per week; total number of lessons: 640.
- Branch training centres provide learners with additional skills that are intended to complement classroom instruction and apprenticeship training, total duration of branch courses: 16 days.

The qualification procedure and final examination includes the following:

- Practical project covering ca. 4 hours
- (Written and/or verbal) testing of knowledge gained from vocational instruction covering 2.5 hours
- LCS

The calculation of the overall grade takes into account the grades obtained for individual areas of competence and the grades obtained from classroom instruction at the vocational school. The practical part of the final examination counts double.

Other equivalent qualification procedures are possible.
